

TEACHER LEADERSHIP PATHWAYS PROJECT

A collaboration between the Illinois Education Association's Opportunity Coalition and Northwestern University

EXECUTE > ON YOUR VISION

GREAT TEACHERS MAKE GREAT LEADERS

Starting with a leadership self-assessment and a local context assessment, you will explore teacher leadership pathways alongside national experts from Northwestern University, while learning and practicing the core competencies required to maximize your impact. Effective schools need effective teacher leaders and effective teacher leaders need support to grow their capacity and impact.

TEACHER LEADERSHIP PATHWAYS PROJECT

This all virtual pilot Teacher Leadership cohort will run through the 2022-23 school year. The cohort will meet virtually once a quarter and will culminate in a job embedded practicum project that will showcase your impact and growth as a teacher leader. You will work with other emerging teacher leaders while being exposed to national experts and coached by experienced educators.

REGISTER NOW TO ENSURE YOUR SLOT

- LIMITED SLOTS AVAILABLE
- All Times and Dates are listed on the Registration Page

Teacher leaders who successfully complete the Pathways Project will receive a microcredential, along with building their leadership capacity and impact. A generous grant from the National Education Association and support from Northwestern University allows us to keep the cost to $499. We have found districts are supportive of professional development for their local teacher leaders, but limited scholarships are available.
